FIREFLY CLASS

Dear Parents,

Welcome April! Let there be sunshine and happiness! March was a month full of clovers and leprechauns, but it was an unforgettable one. We will begin April by getting our class Easter-ready. The students of the firefly class had been busy cutting, drawing, and painting various Easter and spring-themed arts and crafts to help decorate our class. Easter is such an egg-citing holiday for our fireflies, and the thrill of seeking eggs is something they look forward to. Once our caterpillars arrive, we will observe their growth and document their physical changes. We will focus on the topic of butterflies and learn about their life cycle. We will discuss the importance of butterflies and how they help our planet. Lastly, we participate in eco-friendly activities such as creating a collage with recyclable items. April brings many fun and learning opportunities for our fireflies.

Student of the Month

We are excited to announce Lea Smith as our student of the month for March. Lea is a kind student who loves interacting with her peers when she comes to class. Coming up with games, such as pretending to be a princess or cat, is something she enjoys doing when playing outside. At first, she might seem soft-spoken, but she's a social butterfly who loves making her peers laugh. When asked who would like a turn to update the calendar, she doesn't hesitate to raise her hand first. She loves to participate, and if, by accident, I've skipped her, she makes sure to let me know. Lea is also very hardworking and takes time to complete her classwork. We are happy to have such a fantastic student in class. We applaud you for never giving up and giving your best. Congratulations Lea!

Ms. Eliana
